Warranty / Liability

Dear Customer,

This website was designed with the utmost care. Nevertheless, we cannot guarantee that the information contained is free of faults and fully accurate. Any liability for damage directly or indirectly incurred through the use of this website shall be excluded, to the extent such damage does not result from intent or gross negligence.

We reserve the right to make design changes as a result of quality improvement measures, further developments or production requirements. The information given in our online catalogue specifies and identifies components rather than guaranteeing specific properties. Up to date drawings and specifications will be sent to you on request.

Best regards,

Yours sincerely,
